WINTER COMES WHEN SPRING ISN'T FAR AWAY

5.7 Snowfall Exceeds That in Two Previous Storms of Season, and Shocks Forecasters of Early Mildness.

155 MEN AT WORK CLEARING STREETS

Automobile Drivers Find Heavy Going in Early Hours—Car Service Normal.

With spring officially only three weeks away, winter descended upon St. Louis last night in the form of the heaviest snowfall of the season, measuring 5.7 inches up to 7 a. m. It was a rude shock to weather prophets who have been predicting early mildness, and who have been reporting the appearance of robins at various points in and near the city, and have been nurturing crocuses, narcissus and other flowers which have come up in the last few days.

More snow fell last night than in both of the two previous snowstorms of the winter. The record of Jan. 30 was 2.5 inches, and that of Dec. 3 was 2.1 inches. The record for St. Louis was established Feb. 21, 1912, with a fall of 15.5 inches in 24 hours.

The sound of snow shovels and soft shovels scraping sidewalks was heard through the residence districts, beginning before daylight, and early automobile drivers found heavy going in some of the less used streets, sleighing and coasting are in prospect for this evening.

Men at Work on Streets.

One hundred and fifty-five men and 75 wagons were at work on downtown streets this morning, removing the snow, and 100 sewer workers were at the work of keeping the sewer inlets clear, chiefly in the business district.

Director Disk of the Department of Streets and Sewers is expected to have 250 men and 100 wagons on duty before evening, and that, unless there is an additional heavy snowfall, the downtown streets can be pretty well cleaned up by noon tomorrow.

The men at work were regular employees of the department and men hired from the emergency unemployment fund at $2.50 a day. Only about $500 remains of the part of his fund allotted to street work.

Seventy-five men from the municipal lodging house shoveled snow on the sidewalks around the city hall and Municipal Courts Building this morning, in return for their lodging and meals.

Train Arrivals About as Usual.

Little effect of the snowfall on railroad traffic appeared at Union Station. Trains from the East were about on time to about the same extent as usual, and those from the West showed delays of a half hour or more, the greatest delay in arrival being one hour and 50 minutes.

Snow and Wind Storm Leave Low Temperatures in Southwest.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 1.—The heavy snow and high, wind storm which visited virtually the entire area of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Northern Arkansas and the Texas Panhandle, had passed today, leaving in its wake near-zero temperatures. Train service into Kansas City from the storm-bound country was generally three hours late.

The weather forecast for this entire area was generally fair tonight and tomorrow, but with continued low temperatures.

In Kansas the great wheat belt benefited immeasurably by the heavy white blanket, which covered it to the top of the hills. Hutchinson reported between eight and 10 inches of snow over the surrounding wheat country with the snow ended.

Joplin, Springfield, Carthage and surrounding mountain territory got an average of 6 inches of snow. St. Joseph, on the north, got only 3.1 inches. Kansas City had 5 inches.

In Texas the cold weather continued today. Houston reported this morning that the coldest March weather there in 30 years had been recorded—22.5 degrees above zero.

Official reports, this information said, told of freezing weather all the way to Brownsville, and fears were expressed for truck crops in the lowest Texas coast country.

New World's Record in Dog Derby.

By the Associated Press.

THE PAS, Manitoba, March 1.—C. Morgan's team, driven by Bill Strayson, won the annual The Pas dog derby, reaching here shortly after noon today with all his dogs in excellent condition. Morgan's time was 24 hours, 51 minutes, for the 500 miles and is a world's record.

New York Morning Papers Reduced to 8 Pages by Strike

Pressmen Return to Work After Night Off and Will Seek Modification of Wage Ruling of Arbitrator.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The pressmen on the New York morning papers took a night off last night to wrangle over the recent wage arbitration award of Judge Martin T. Manton of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which became effective at 12:01 o'clock this morning. At 2:30, after a stormy meeting, which had lasted all night in Yorkville Casino, the conservative element got control of the situation and the men voted to accept the ruling of Judge Manton, to which they had pledged themselves when he was chosen arbitrator, to return to work, and to appoint a committee of 12 to confer with the publishers and seek to get modifications of Judge Manton's decision.

The incident played hob with the morning newspapers. No strike had been declared, but the radical element among the pressmen, demanding that the men take "vacations," as was done by the book and job printers a few years ago, locked the doors of the hall so that those who desired to go to their work could not get out. Around midnight emergency crews were obtained and the papers began bringing out eight-page editions.

The controversy was ended today. Don C. Seitz, manager of the New York World, announced after a publishers' meeting. All afternoon papers, which had omitted their first editions, would appear in full size at 11 a. m., Seitz said.

George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union of North America, was present at the union meeting.

The decision of Judge Manton fixed $51 and $45 as pay for day pressmen in charge and journeymen, respectively, and $54 and $48 for night pressmen in charge and journeymen.

The first papers to appear today were the Herald and Tribune which got on the street a little after 1 a. m. The World and the Telegraph soon followed. All advertising was dropped and the general news of the world was handled briefly. The World, for instance, gave seven and a half columns to Princess Mary's wedding, including pictures and feature stories, a half column to the discussion of the bonus bill situation in Washington, a column and a third to the President's address on the ship subsidy and the other news events of prime importance a half column or less. Not a line of advertising was carried in any of the papers. All the papers carried explanatory announcements.

LAMAR, Mo., March 1.—The largest water-power development in Missouri is planned for a site on the Osage River in Camden County, according to W. R. Banks, G. A. Beamer and associates, of Lamar, who announced today that they have obtained authorization from the Federal Power Site Commission in Washington, and that they have obtained the necessary capital, about $5,000,000, through a New York construction company.

The promoters say they expect to obtain 30,000 to 50,000 horse-power from the dam, and to supply Central Missouri towns and cities with light and power.

Large Project Planned.

The plans call for a project larger than that at Lake Taneycomo, in Taney County. The location is about 15 miles south of Versailles, at the point where a 21-mile bend in the Osage begins. A tunnel only 1 1/2 miles long will span the distance across this bend, and will empty its waters into the Osage at the other side of the bend, which is known as "Devil's Elbow."

At the town of Linn Creek, which is on the course of this bend, the Niangua River flows into the Osage. An auxiliary dam is planned at the end of the bend to keep up the level of this stretch of the river, and it is intended, in fact, to raise it about 10 feet above the normal level.

Banks said today that the damage in the form of land overflow would not be large, owing to favorable formation of the banks in that region.

"Our project receives the flow from a watershed of 15,000 square miles," Banks said, "as compared with about 600 square miles as the watershed of the Taneycomo dam."

Cities Likely to Be Served.

The power generated by the Taneycomo dam is about 20,000 horse-power, Banks said, or less than one-half what it is hoped to obtain ultimately in the Camden County project.

Versailles, Jefferson City, Sedalia and Columbia are within the Central Missouri region to which the power could be supplied cheaply, and plans to take it to places more distant are being considered.

Work will not begin before this fall, Banks said, as some geological tests are still to be made.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Yap treaty was ratified without reservations or amendments today by the Senate.

The vote for ratification was 67 to 22.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader, immediately after action on the Yap treaty, called up the four-power Pacific pact.

By a vote of 54 to 20 the Senate rejected an amendment by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, proposing that the United States should be "exclusive judge" of whether the radio service maintained by Japan on Yap Island is adequate. The amendment would have applied to a provision of the treaty which permits establishment of an American wireless plant on the island only in case an "efficient" service is not provided by Japan.

Senator Pittman then offered the same proposal in the form of a reservation instead of an amendment, and it was voted down, 28 to 56.

Another reservation by Senator Pittman declaring no existing treaty rights of the United States shall be abridged by the Yap settlement was rejected, 29 to 58.

Thirteen Democrats voted for ratification and only three Republicans opposed it.

Senate Divided on Party Lines on Amendment.

In voting down an amendment offered by Senator Pittman, Democrat, of Nevada, which would have amended the provision that existing treaty rights of the United States shall apply to the mandated islands of the Pacific, the Senate yesterday divided on party lines, only two Republicans—Borah and Francis—supporting the proposal and four Democrats opposing it. The vote was 50 to 23.

The Senate, by a vote of 52 to 11, also rejected a proposed amendment by Senator Francis to prevent manufacture or export of intoxicating liquors on the mandated islands. Senator Lodge declared the amendment was wholly unnecessary, quoting the treaty a provision that "intoxicants are not to be supplied to the natives" of the mandated islands. Senator Reed replied that a more nearly complete prohibition was preferable, to apply to foreigners as well as natives, so that the world would not behold the spectacle of a "totally sober population" as Japanese officials loaded to the guards.

Senator Reed again charged that the Republic leaders were attempting to "force" Senate action before the country could realize what the agreements embody.

NEW YORK, March 1.—All the women who advanced money to him "took a chance," said Alfred E. Lindsay, alleged swindler of society women, in a statement issued from the Tombs last night. The women entrusted their money to him with a full understanding that it was to be used for stock speculation and all knew their money had been "lost honestly," he said.

This was in sharp contrast to a statement issued earlier in the day by Assistant District Attorney Murphy, in which he said Lindsay had defrauded a confession that many of the charges against him were true and that he and his wife had discussed suicide as a possible way out of their difficulties.

Notwithstanding that he felt under no obligation to them, Lindsay said, he has continually advanced them money until the greater part of their difficulties.

Willing to Give Up Home.

Mrs. Lindsay was willing to turn over to a creditors' committee the handsome Lindsay estate at South Naack, which, with the furnishings, should bring nearly $100,000. In addition, he said, he was willing to make good any difference between the amount so realized and the unpaid balances on sums the women had advanced him.

Lindsay took up each woman's claim separately—giving his version of the transaction.

HOUSE COMMITTEE UNANIMOUSLY IN FAVOR OF THE COMPROMISE PLAN

Subcommittee Appointed to Draw Measure, Which, if Retaining Cash Feature, Will Make It So Unattractive as to Cause Little Demand for It.

FORDNEY SAYS IT WILL BE READY SOON

At Same Time, New York Republican Lays Before President Proposal Which Would Limit Compensation to Veterans.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—A special subcommittee to work out a soldier bonus plan, which would not entail any heavy draft on the Federal Treasury within the next two years, was appointed today by majority members of the House Ways and Means Committee. The subcommittee will meet later in the day and Chairman Fordney said the bill probably would be completed within two or three days and immediately reported out.

The majority members came to no decision as to details, but it was the general understanding that in the measure to be drafted the cash feature, if retained, would be made so much less attractive than the other features that there would be small demand for it.

Fordney heads the subcommittee and the other members are Representatives Green of Iowa, Longworth of Ohio, Hawley of New York, Treadway of Massachusetts and Copley of Illinois.

Unanimous Agreement Reached.

Before deciding to appoint the subcommittee, the majority members again canvassed the whole situation. The compromise finally reached was said to have been by unanimous consent.

While the majority members were in session Representative Fish, Republican, New York, laid before President Harding a suggested amendment to the bonus measure, which would limit the adjusted compensation pay to recipients of vocational training, those drawing compensation for disabilities and to veterans who certify to their unemployment in making application.

Some members of the committee said complete elimination of the cash bonus was in mind and that it was the plan to make the insurance feature more attractive. They explained that, while the service men accepting this option could not borrow from the Government on their insurance within three years, they probably could obtain the money from other sources before the expiration of the period.

Representative Longworth said the idea was to relieve the treasury of any heavy drafts on account of the bonus during the period of the refunding of the $6,500,000,000 of Victory notes and the short dated certificates.

Some of Farm Bloc Favor Plan.

Some such plan as that on which the committee is now working has been suggested by a number of former service men and by members of the House, and has been looked upon with favor by some leaders of the agricultural bloc, who have held out against President Harding's suggestion of financing the cash bonus by means of a sales tax.

Committee members said it was the expectation that the vocational training and home land settlement options would be retained, explaining these would not cause any heavy drain on the treasury within the few years. With the cash feature eliminated, it was said the ultimate cost of the bonus would be greater than estimated under the present "five-way plan," even with Federal aid under those options held to the present proportion.

STATE SOLDIERS' BONUS BONDS SELL AT 103.77

$15,000,000 Issue Disposed of at Premium of $555,500 to Syndicate.

The $15,000,000 bond issue of the State of Missouri, for the payment of bonuses to men who served in the World War, were sold today in Jefferson City to a syndicate composed of the Kauffman-Smith-Emert Investment Co. of St. Louis, the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis, Prescott & Snider of Kansas City and Esterbrook & Co. of New York.

The successful bid was at the rate of 103.77, which gives a premium of $555,500 on the entire issue. The bonds are to be delivered to the purchasers in blocks of $3,000,000 a month, beginning April 1, and continuing the first of May, June, July and August.

The bonds bear interest at 5 per cent, and this interest will accrue from today. The bonds are of long periods of duration, from six to 15 years.

Other bids were made for the entire issue, besides numerous bids for less than the whole. Bidders for the entire issue were William R. Compton & Co. of St. Louis and the National City Co. of New York, bidding in conjunction, a syndicate headed by the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, and believed to represent the Rockefeller interest; and a syndicate headed by the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. of St. Louis.

The State Bonus Fund Commission was in charge of the sale.

FINED $1000 FOR SALE OF HALF PINT OF WHISKY

Rooming House Proprietor Assessed Maximum by Judge Faris, "Making New Rule."

Karl Kromer, proprietor of two rooming houses at 3522-24 Washington avenue, was fined $1000 by Judge Faris in the Federal Court today after pleading guilty to the sale of a half pint bottle of whisky to Detective Sergt. Roach. In assessing the fine, Judge Faris mused, "I don't know what would punish him most." And after reflecting a moment, decided: "I'll make a new rule. Let the fine be $1000, which is the limit in this case."

An added penalty of six months in jail could have been assessed.

Plea for Return of Bottle.

When Kromer's case was called his attorney, John Neu, began to argue a motion for the restoration of property illegally taken by the police. After Neu argued for a while, Judge Faris inquired the nature of the property that Kromer wished returned. Neu answered, "A pint bottle, that is to be used as evidence in this case."

"Don't be ridiculous," Judge Faris admonished. "This is a busy court. Your motion is overruled."

Detective Sergeant Roach had sent one of his men in the house at 3524 Washington avenue to purchase whisky with a marked $1 bill. The purchase was made. Kromer testified on the hearing of the motion that he was in the house at 3522 when a friend named McAvoy borrowed some whisky from him and a few minutes later Kromer's son gave him a $1 bill that he found on a table in 3524. This was the bill marked by the police.

Man Fined $250 for Possession and Sale of Pure Malt Liqueur.

Kelly Segal, 2746 Morgan street, was fined $250 for possession and $1 for the purchase of whisky on a plea of guilty.

William Martineau, 3485 Union boulevard, was sentenced to two months in the St. Charles jail on a plea of guilty of selling two drinks of whisky.

Emma Kramer, 1428 North Taylor avenue, proprietor of a confectonery, was fined $200 on execution, which means that the fine will be stayed, for possession of 232 pints of home-made beer.

APPROVAL GIVEN TENTATIVELY FOR OSAGE RIVER DAMS

Post-Dispatch Bureau.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—A project to build three dams in the Osage River for the development of hydroelectric power has been given tentative approval by the Federal Power Commission, through the issuance of a license to W. R. Banks, of Lamar, Mo., to protect him in his prior rights to the sites while he is making further study of the possibilities.

It was stated at the commission's offices today that if Banks finds the project to be feasible and can show ability to finance it, a 50-year license will be granted on the usual terms, namely, a fee of 25 cents a year to the Government for each horsepower developed. The temporary permit runs for three years.

The State is expected today to close broker, her former sweetheart.Among the final witnesses for the prosecution was expected to be Mrs.

J. D. Kennedy, mother of the dead man.Mrs. Obenchain will go on the witness stand, her attorneys say, after a number of defense witnesses have been called.A mental healer and a woman with
"the gift of sight" were witnesses yesterday. They were called by the prosecution in support of its contention that Mrs. Obenchain conspired with Arthur C. Burch to have the latter kill Kennedy. The prosecution also read into the record a document made by Mrs. Obenchain on Aug. 5, the day after the slaying, in which she declared it was she, not Kennedy, who sought to break the engagement she said had existed be-

William Isenloh, the mental healer, said Mrs. Obenchain visited him on July 12 to consult on "spiritual

Isenloh said he advised her to wait until Aug. 10 for the marriage.Mrs. R. B. Whitlow, who said she was born with the gift of sight, testified Mrs. Obenchain asked her about the middle of July if she would marry the man she loved. "I told her things looked favorable," Mrs. Whitlow testified. Later, the witness said, Mrs. Obenchain telephoned to her and asked if she could bring her "young man friend" to call.
"I said she could," Mrs. Whitlow said, "then she told me she wanted me to talk favorably to him. About

Obenchain occupied one across the hall from her.Burch called on Mrs. Obenchain on numerous occasions during that time, and took groceries to the Obenchain apartment.Testimony of Former Neighbor.
Mrs. Childs said that one day last June Mrs. Obenchain told her she would leave for California the following day and was to be married in San Francisco on June 28 to a young man she had known for several years. Mrs. Obenchain did not mention the man's name, Mrs. Childs said.William Bright, a Deputy Sheriff, testified that Mrs. Obenchain received an envelope containing $55 in currency in the county jail on Aug.
6. This was brought to the jail by a woman friend of the defendant, in whose care it had been addressed. A handwriting expert had testified the address was inscribed by Burch.
Bright said Mrs. Obenchain told him
Burch had owed her money.On J. E. Childs' stand he ex-
knee at the county jail on Aug. 10.
The State contends the thorn was of a species found on bushes in Beverly Glen.

MARY PICKFORD GOT $8 A WEEK AT START

Actress, Now Getting $10,000 a Week, Denies She Employed Woman Suing for $108,000.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 11.—Mary Pickford never owned a "pink, fluffy waist," she testified yesterday in the suit before Judge Mack in the Federal District Court, where Mrs. Corn Corcoran Wilkenning is asking for $108,000.

Miss Pickford said she had not employed Mrs. Wilkenning "then or ever." Under cross-examination by Attorney Joseph she admitted having signed a contract with Benjamin Hampton and made other admissions regarding certain of Mrs. Wilkenning's statements as to interviews and payments of money.

Questioned as to apparent discrepancies between replies given at the two previous hearings of the case and those made yesterday, she answered:

"Well, I am under oath. I must tell the truth. If I made that reply then, it must be true. I have no recollection of the matter now."

Referring to the circumstances which induced Adolph Zukor to increase her salary to $10,000 a week, she said:

"I wanted to do 'Teddy Longlegs' and 'Pollyanna.' I wanted to produce them both immediately. I felt that I needed a good picture to bring back my popularity."

Refused $200,000 a Week.
She admitted that she had refused an offer amounting to $200,000 a week made by Julius Stern of the Universal Film Co.

Earlier in the day her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, testified Mary had been on the stage since she was 5 years old and her first salary had been only $3 a week.

While the actress testified a large crowd was present, but her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, was bored. He walked out into a corridor, sat on a radiator, lit a cigarette and spent the afternoon gazing at nearby skyscrapers.

Miss Mary, as her lawyer called her, looked Mrs. Wilkenning straight in the eye and denied having told her in 1916 that she was distressed over business affairs. She also denied that she engaged her at 10 per cent commission to get offers from other producers so Adolph Zukor would feel like increasing the $2000 a week salary she then received.

Miss Pickford said she had planned early in 1916 to leave Zukor's employ because she was informed that her secretaries had been shoved out of his office into the hall. There were other unpleasant incidents, she added.

Zukor she pictured as saying, "Mary, you're excited. Go home and think about it, and if you're of the same mind tomorrow, I'll let you go."

Did Not Change Mind.
She did not change her mind overnight, but upon going back to quit the next day, she was persuaded to stay until she had made one more picture. Later, she continued, she was told by her representative, Francis O'Brien, that Zukor denied having released her and would hold her to her contract.

The news that Mary was going to leave got noised about the studio and pretty soon Mrs. Wilkenning came upon the scene, the actress testified.

Later, Mary admitted, she signed an option with Benjamin B. Hampton, in Mrs. Wilkenning's office, but only after he had promised to tear it up if O'Brien was dissatisfied with it.

Last week it was testified that Zukor increased Miss Pickford from $4000 to $10,000 a week. When her mother told about the days when Mary got $3 a week as a child actress on the stage, she said they split the earnings 50-50, and they still do, Mrs. Pickford said.

4 MEN EXECUTED FOR MURDER IN TENNESSEE

Electrocuted for Killing of Companion of Auto Driver Held in Bank Robbery Plan.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 1.—Charles Petree, Tom Christmas, Otto Stevens and John McClure died in the electric chair at the state prison this morning for the murder of George Lewis of Knoxville on May 26, 1921.

The men went to their deaths with prayers on their lips. All except Petree met death calmly. An hour before the execution Petree became ill. The men died in the order given: Petree, at 4:15 o'clock; Christmas, 4:25; Stevens, 4:35, and McClure at 4:45.

The story of how the four men were captured and convicted of murdering Lewis near Clinton, Tenn., is fraught with dramatic incidents. The killing, the chase over the mountains of East Tennessee for the outlaws, the subsequent trial and conviction—all served to engage the interest of the people of that section more, perhaps, than any other case for years.

Hired Auto for Robbery. It was brought out in the trial that, having planned the robbery of the Oakdale (Tenn.) bank, the men hired a taxicab driven by Andrew Crumley of Knoxville. Then, George Lewis accompanied Crumley on the trip which the four men hired the latter to make.

When the party had reached a secluded spot near Robertsonville, Tenn., according to testimony by Crumley, Lewis and the driver were bound and gagged, beaten on the head with a pistol and left for dead. Both of the victims' throats were cut.

The bank robbery planned for the following morning failed to materialize. Then followed a search which was joined by hundreds of mountaineers. Two of the men were arrested in the mountains and the other two were later captured at Harriman, Tenn.

The outlaws had killed Lewis, but Crumley lived, and it was his testimony which went far toward convicting the men.

Crowds Attend Trial. Mountaineers from many sections crowded into the little town of Clinton to attend the trial. Excitement was high and for a while violence was threatened.

Before it was evident that the defense's case had collapsed, an attempt was made to show that Petree had possessed low mentality since childhood. This effort failed, and the defense entered a plea of guilty and begged the court's mercy.

The four convicted men were sentenced July 24, 1921, to die in the electric chair Sept. 16. An appeal for a new trial later was overruled and the defense appealed to the Supreme Court of Tennessee, thus suspending the execution pending final decision.

Preceding the execution Petree and Christmas refused to talk, and spent their time during the night writing letters and conversing quietly with each other. On the other hand, McClure and Stevens talked freely and answered all questions put to them.

EMERGENCY UNEMPLOYMENT FUND IS DOWN TO $11,662

Remainder of $250 a Day Workers Will Be Paid Off March 15—170 Dropped Yesterday.
Of the $100,000 appropriated by the city last November to provide work for the unemployed, only $11,662 remains, Comptroller Nolte reported today, and by March 15 it will all have been spent and no more will be appropriated until the budget for the new fiscal year is adopted after April 12.

Park Commissioner Pape laid off yesterday 170 men and 30 teams because his portion of the fund has been used up. The Street and Building Departments still have men working, but it will be necessary soon to lay them off.
The expenditure of the fund has been on the basis of $50,000 for workmen and $20,000 for teams. The men have been paid $2.50 a day. Most of them have been utilized in the Park Department. They graded part of King's highway and shaped up the new park space at Twelfth street and Chouteau avenue. They also helped to raise the old City Hall.

CLEVELAND BUILDING AT HALT

Trades Council and Association at Odds in 1922 Wage Agreement.

CLEVELAND, O., March 1.—Construction of many buildings was at a standstill today and many men were idle as a result of the failure of the Building Trades Council and the Building Trades Employers' Association to reach an agreement over a wage scale for 1933. The old contracts expired last midnight, according to the contractors, but the unions insist they are operative until May 1.

The 21 unions affiliated with the Trades Council have a membership of about 25,000. Not all of them have been working, and separate agreements were reached between the plasterers and glaziers' unions and the employers.
The wage scale announced by the employers Saturday was for reductions of from 13 to 26 per cent, which the men refused to consider.

USE CONCRETE FOR PERMANENCE

Uncle Sam Puts Concrete Roads First

No one has better facilities for determining the past performance of roads of all kinds in all parts of the country than the United States Government.

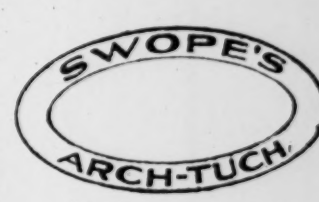

The Government approves the types of construction to which it will lend its aid, and in an overwhelming majority of instances it has approved Concrete.

Cooperating with the states, the Government has approved in the past five years expenditures totaling $229,000,000 for three kinds of pavement—Concrete, brick and bituminous. Of this, $184,000,000, or more than 80 per cent, has been invested in Concrete. That represents 79.3 per cent of the mileage paved.

Any community that selects Concrete for its highways is fully sustained in its choice by the observation and experience of the Federal Government.

Policemen are seeking the driver of a Ford coupe who drove away after his machine had struck and killed Peter Schrier, 57 years old, of 1233 Hughes place, a range maker, near Dugget avenue and Edwards street at 1 p.m. yesterday.

After the accident the driver stopped and assisted Ely Contarini of 749 Walton avenue in carrying Schrier to a grocery at the corner and then departed, apparently to get a doctor, but never returned.

Schrier was employed at the Quick Meal Store and Range Co. He was crossing from the west to the east side of Edwards street at Dugget avenue, passing behind a delivery truck parked near the corner, when the coupe, southbound, struck him and dragged him about 20 feet.

When Schrier was taken to the city hospital, doctors said he apparently had suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

He was named by Koestlin in a written statement concerning the fire which destroyed a $150,000 stock of lumber in the yards of the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co., Jan. 29. As is known, that was the second of a series of lumber yard and planing mill fires, involving damage estimated at about $650,000, attributed by firemen and detectives to incendiaries.

Barlett, when informed by detectives that Koestlin had implicated him in the Wiles-Chipman fire, declined to make any statement. He expressed willingness to return to St. Louis if the burglary charge against him was dropped, but when told that that would not be done he refused to waive extradition, and said he would fight any steps taken to compel him to return to St. Louis.

HYDE SAYS SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE "GOING TO GET FAIR DEAL"

Governor Addresses National Educational Association on Rural School Program.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, March 1.—Gov. Hyde of Missouri, addressing the National Educational Association here today, told of benefits accruing to the rural schools in Missouri through the increase in the assessments of real estate in Missouri, and the attempt by the State Board of Equalization to assess property at its actual value, through which needed funds were obtained for the schools.

"Don't imagine that the change in assessed values was accomplished without a jar," the Governor said. "The politician got busy and set up a howl that we were raising taxes on the farmers. The county courts and local school boards seized upon the increased valuation to levy much-needed revenues for improvements. The farmers became alarmed, because they did not understand and we heard from them in tones that were mistaken but by no means uncertain."

"The fight is not over yet in Missouri. The farmers are beginning to understand. I have faith that when they do understand they will approve. They tell us that it means our political ruin. Thank God I didn't amount to anything politically two years ago, and it makes little difference whether I amount to anything politically three years from now. But I am going to be Governor three years more in Missouri, and during those three years the kiddies of the farm are going to get a square deal. I want to know if there is a square-toed, up-standing, hard-hitting Republican or Democrat farmer in Missouri who will trade off his kiddies' chance for an education for a few cents per acre of taxes."

LENTEN SEASON OPENED WITH DOWNTOWN NOONDAY SERMONS

Archbishop Glennon Preaches at Old Cathedral and Bishop Tuttle at Christ Church.

Noonday services of the Lenten season began today with Archbishop Glennon preaching at the Old Cathedral, Second and Walnut streets, and Bishop Tuttle, preaching at Christ Church Cathedral, Thirtieth and Locust streets.

Archbishop Glennon reminded his hearers, in announcing that his text was "Remember, man, thou art but dust and unto dust thou shalt return," that he had delivered the same sermon on the same subject every Ash Wednesday in the past 17 years. He said that while a man may doubt the existence of his soul, he admits the absolute certainty of death. The noonday services, he said, would be held to draw persons from the routine of their daily life into the atmosphere of truth.

That the Holy Spirit is a person and should be spoken of as "He" and not "it," as is commonly done, was emphasized by Bishop Tuttle. "The Holy Spirit," he said, "should be thought of as a distinct personage and not as an influence or energy. The Holy Spirit is the voice of God on earth. Speaking in human language God and Christ are in Heaven and the Holy Spirit is on earth."

MRS. MARIE B. FAULKNER TO ENTER SUIT FOR A DIVORCE

Granddaughter of Late Col. Edward Butler to Charge Lack of Support.

Mrs. Marie Butler Faulkner, granddaughter of the late Col. Edward Butler, has retained Alderman Luke E. Hart to institute divorce proceedings for her against Ralph H. Faulkner, former Captain in the Twentieth Engineers, and son of the late Dr. William R. Faulkner. They were married June 12, 1919, while Capt. Faulkner was on sick leave from a Government hospital, and separated six months ago. Mrs. Faulkner will allege that he has contributed nothing to her support since that time.

Mrs. Faulkner, who is living with her mother, Mrs. Katherine Keating Butler, at 1143 Union boulevard, will receive $200.00 from the estate of her grandfather when she becomes 30 years of age. She is now 24. Mrs. Faulkner will make no request for alimony. Faulkner is now living in New York.

Judge Mack Assigned to Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Federal Judge Julian W. Mack of New York today was selected by Judge George A. Carpenter, senior Federal Judge, to serve in place of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, whose resignation became effective today, until such time as President Harding may appoint a successor.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c & 30c.

ARE you getting over a cold or grip only to find yourself a victim of back-ache? Are you suffering headaches, too, dizzy spells, a dull, tired, worn-out feeling and annoying kidney irregularities? Then don't delay! Physicians agree that a vast number of the worst cases of kidney trouble are the result of germ diseases. In every infectious disease the system is alive with poisonous germs and bacteria. The kidneys are overwhelmed with the rush of new work; they break down, become congested, inflamed and diseased. Too often the real trouble is lost sight of until some dangerous kidney ailment sets in. If your kidneys are falling behind, don't wait for serious trouble. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These St. Louis Folks Found Relief:

EDWARD J. SCHEER,
2831 N. Spring Ave.

Says: "My whole body was racked with pain. I could hardly move because of those awful pains through my back which I could not get rid of. I had a knife stuck in my back. I could not have but more severely. I often had to have help in order to turn in bed. My kidneys did not act right. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and after using Doan's I was cured as sound as ever."

MRS. JOHN FELS,
2122A Prairie Ave.

Says: "My back felt weak and sore as if it would give out when I went upstairs. I had hardly strength enough to drag one foot after the other. My kidneys acted irregularly. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in the paper as being good for such trouble as mine. This led me to believe they would help me. I got a supply and used them and they certainly cured me up in the shape, making my kidneys strong again."

LIEUT. HENRY SMITH,
Retired Fireman, 3939 Sherman Place.

Says: "A fireman is more or less exposed to bad weather, and this has a tendency to bring on kidney trouble. My back ached. When I took cold it was sure to settle on my kidneys and make the trouble worse. My kidneys acted irregularly and pain shot through my back like knife-stabs. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and they cured me. In a short time I was able to return to my old job. I am now 64 years old. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble and I seldom have any sign of the trouble now."

Take Care of Your Cold

Guard Against Grippe, "Flu" and Pneumonia—Rub Musterole on Throat, Chest and Back

Grippe, influenza and pneumonia all start with a cold, so guard against these dangers before your cold gets deeply seated. At the first sign of a cold (which is just congestion) bring your circulation back to normal by rubbing Musterole on your throat, chest and back. Musterole is a counter-irritant which warms up the body quickly and sets the blood surging through the congested parts. Remember the good old-fashioned mustard plaster that was grand-mother's standby! Musterole has all of the good qualities of that old mustard plaster without the sting and blister.

Made of pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, it penetrates the pores and goes straight to the seat of trouble. During the "flu" epidemic several years ago, Musterole was used in our army training camps and the U. S. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to our soldiers in France.

"HOME RULE" IN TAXATION IS URGED BY SHARTEL

Increases in the amounts collected locally.

Expects Enough Revenue.
"It is my opinion that sufficient money could be obtained for the support of the State Government by taxation of all incomes at 1 per cent, by slightly increasing the inheritance taxes and by slightly increasing the corporation franchise taxes. The State would continue to support various departments, such as the insurance, oil, beverage, etc., by special taxes sufficient to pay the operating expenses of the department."

"In my letter, I placed the income tax exemptions at $1000 and $1000. I do not know that these figures are correct. Perhaps the amount for single persons should be $500. That is a detail to be worked out."

"I believe the income tax rate should be the same for all incomes. The rate would be low, and if that provision was placed in the Constitution, the Legislature would be prevented from putting all the burden of the income tax on a few by increasing the rates on large incomes."

"I have received letters from a number of delegates to the convention, and have had some criticism of my plan. One delegate suggested that it would place the burden of State taxation on the rich. It would not do that. The average person with an income, I think, has some real estate or personal property. In paying on his income he would be relieved of the state tax on his property."

"A fear has been expressed by some that it would mean less money for the schools. That is not my idea. I would not reduce the amount of State revenue. I would merely get it in a different place. I am in favor of cutting off a few hundred useless jobs in Jefferson City and increasing the amount of money the schools get. Fewer useless jobs and more school teachers."

"The one objection I have heard to the plan—an objection which may have considerable merit—is that the plan would place an undue burden of taxation on the colored negro."

Sees Chance for Objection.
"Frankly, I am not prepared right now to answer that objection, or to express an opinion regarding it, because it has only been suggested to me, and I have not had time to consider it."

"This objection is that the colored person has in most cases no source of income, which is easily taxed by the taxing authorities, and that through an income tax the colored person would bear more than their share, while other persons with incomes less readily traceable would escape. That is a question to be given serious consideration, and I am glad it has been brought up. We can consider it carefully. Of course, there is not much a thing as a perfectly just system of taxation, but we want to avoid injustice just as much as possible."

"It has been suggested to me that it would be no easier to dig out the money from the colored person than it has been to dig out the securities themselves. I would establish in the State Treasurer's office the machinery for uncovering such income. The national Government gets it for taxation and the State can get it."

"In local self-government I would go farther than taxation. I do not know how the other delegates may feel, but as for me I favor home rule for St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph in police affairs. I can see no possible right that the people of Newton County have to direct St. Louis election and police affairs, no more than St. Louis has to direct the election and police affairs of Newton County. I can assure you that Newton County would object to the State running its elections and police."

"I am told that in St. Louis the city is required to expend for its Police Department whatever sum the Police Commissioners, appointed by the Governor, and without the people of St. Louis having any voice in their selection, demand. The Revolutionary War was caused by such conditions as that."

Urges Self-Government.
"There are those who say that the State is concerned in the election in St. Louis and in the enforcement of law. So is it in Newton County. To deny the right of local self-government is to assert that the persons governed are not capable of self-government. It is absurd."

"I also favor a change in the Constitution which will permit St. Louis to extend its boundaries to take in any adjacent territory which may desire to be annexed. St. Louis should have the same right in that regard that Neosho and every other town in the State has."

According to the latest published report of the State Auditor, slightly less than two-thirds of the present State revenues are derived from the special taxes which Sharitel would have bear the entire burden of the State government, and slightly more than one-third are derived from taxation of real estate and personal property. For the years 1929 and 1930, the receipts of the State Government were $24,255,083.71, of which $16,444,939 came from direct property tax and $14,936,618.81 from income, inheritance and special license taxes.

Plea for the Open-Minded Approach to the Study of Man and His Relations to His Fellow-Made in "The Mind in the Making," by James Harvey Robinson—The Story of the Life and Work of Theodore N. Vail—Some Plays of Old Japan.

THE MIND IN THE MAKING. THE RELATION OF INTELLIGENCE TO SOCIAL LIFE. By James Harvey Robinson. (Harper & Brothers.)

IN this volume Mr. Robinson is pleading for an open-minded attitude toward the study of man and his relations to his fellow-men. He points out the progress made in science in emancipating the natural sciences from current prejudices. He does not advocate any particular method to better man's condition, but rather, he insists upon the cultivation of a new and open-minded attitude of mind to meet new and unprecedented conditions which exist today. In short, Mr. Robinson pleads for a scientific attitude toward human problems.

With this definite purpose in mind he sets about to show the inadequacy of the three methods of reform commonly followed: (1) administrative reform, (2) spiritual education, and (3) education. He has been a dismal failure. Organization is at a standstill in human affairs, but reorganization often fails to meet existing evils, and not uncommonly engenders new and even more serious evils. Experience would seem to teach that the natural kindness in mankind is little promoted by moral exhortation. And the results of our present scheme of liberal education are disappointing. The education of citizenship is nowhere because there is charge of institutions of learning refuse to have anything to do with it. Experience would seem to teach that the natural kindness in mankind is little promoted by moral exhortation. And the results of our present scheme of liberal education are disappointing. The education of citizenship is nowhere because there is charge of institutions of learning refuse to have anything to do with it.

The solution of these problems depends, according to Mr. Robinson, upon the liberal education of the citizen. This is a task which has not been tried on any large scale outside the realm of natural science. And even there this application of intelligence did not come about without opposition. Before the scientific method was introduced, intelligence had to break valiantly with the past. And today if intelligence is to have the freedom of action necessary to accumulate new and valuable knowledge about man's nature and possibilities which will ultimately be applied to reforming his ways, it must loose itself from the bonds that now confine it.

These bonds Mr. Robinson describes as incorrect ways of thinking, namely: (1) the reverence for tradition, (2) the reverence for authority, (3) the reverence for the past, (4) the reverence for the majority, (5) the reverence for the state, (6) the reverence for the church, (7) the reverence for the family, (8) the reverence for the individual, (9) the reverence for the nation, (10) the reverence for the world. He argues that these are incorrect ways of thinking, and that they are the cause of our present ills. He pleads for a new way of thinking, one that is open-minded and that is based on science and reason. He argues that this new way of thinking is the only way to solve our present problems and to build a better world for the future.

Mr. Robinson proceeds to show how prevailing ideas are largely results of rationalization, and how this same rationalization has obstructed "creative thought." According to the author, creative thought is the source of all progress and is the only way to build a better world. He argues that the rationalization of our lives has led to a loss of creative thought, and that this is the cause of our present ills. He pleads for a return to creative thought, and for a new way of thinking that is based on science and reason. He argues that this new way of thinking is the only way to solve our present problems and to build a better world for the future.

"ZIONISM AND WORLD POLITICS," by Horace M. Kallen. (Doubleday, Page & Co.)

WAS it a bit of clever sarcasm, or was it indifference born of contempt or was it simply a gross oversight that caused the brilliant Jewish scholar, teacher, writer, and Zionist, to write an "exhaustive study" of Zionism without making a single direct comment on those Jewish anti-Zionists who are today straining might and main to prevent the nationalization of Judaism? Surely, it must make the blood of an anti-Zionist boil with rage that in a leading treatise on Jewish problems he should not be given "judicial notice." But, whatever the cause, it may be safely said that the total effect of this surprising omission is to leave the reader with a distorted and one-sided view of the subject. The author, Mr. Kallen, is a well-known and respected figure in the Jewish community, and his work is of great value. However, his failure to mention the Jewish anti-Zionists is a serious flaw in his otherwise excellent work.

It was this great issue that split Zionism up into two last year and caused the resignation of Justice Brandeis as honorary president, and the departure of the American Jewish Congress from the scene. The author, Mr. Kallen, is a well-known and respected figure in the Jewish community, and his work is of great value. However, his failure to mention the Jewish anti-Zionists is a serious flaw in his otherwise excellent work.

Within Judaism, at least, there is no issue between Zionists and anti-Zionists. For the simple reason that there can be no more Jewish anti-Zionists than there can be Jewish anti-Jews. This is the silent but easily perceptible implication that is contained in Dr. Kallen's treatise. So much for what is unexpected in his book. What is expected has been justly termed by the publishers "an exhaustive study not only of Zionism, but of the whole Jewish problem with a consideration of Zionism as a factor in world politics." The author, Mr. Kallen, is a well-known and respected figure in the Jewish community, and his work is of great value. However, his failure to mention the Jewish anti-Zionists is a serious flaw in his otherwise excellent work.

Kid Bandy Beats Butch; Floors Him With First Blow

South Side Boxer Gains Referee's Decision After Twelve-Round Battle.

OPPONENT TOO GREEN

Winner Has His Lighter Foot in Bad Condition in Closing Period.

COLISEUM DECISIONS

Kid Bandy (Eddie Vandeventer) defeated George Butch, 12 rounds; weights, Butch 124½, Bandy 125.

Mike Kramer outpointed Jimmy Murphy, eight rounds, 118 pounds.

Fred Nelson gained a decision over "Shifty" Logan (Memphis), eight rounds, 145 pounds.

Harry Sharpe handed down all decisions.

By John E. Wray.

George Butch gave a very good imitation of a boy trying to hurdle from a kindergarten into a university, at the Coliseum last night. George was fired with ambition to be a top-notch, but the desire is backed up by too little experience, as was demonstrated by Kid Bandy, who buffeted George about the ring for 12 rounds in the bounteous feature.

The Angelica Club's show, Referee Harry Sharpe had no trouble in deciding in Bandy's favor.

In fact, twice during the contest the affray was almost ended in a pause caused by the blizzard of fists. The first punch of the opening round was Butch down upon his haunches and jarred his ambition to the very core. The 1000 persons who braved the blizzard to witness the show thought the set was about to come down on Butch's hopes, right there; but he managed to bounce up and flee around the ring to safety. He made but two leads during the entire round, and devoted all his attention to avoiding the ferocious rights and lefts that the storm-looking Bandy hurled at him.

In the closing round, too, just as Butch appeared to have secured a victory, Bandy caught up with the back-tracking opponent and slammed a bunch of cramp-producing punches through the ropes with a left to the stomach. Bandy then wickedly tore into George and tried to finish the job; but Butch, as was the case almost throughout the entire contest, threw a bomb-proof of folded arms and glared about his vitals and weathered the storm.

Bandy Mince Wildly.

The bout was slow and poorly fought, although well meant. Butch was too small and not strong enough for the former chauffeur, who loomed large and strong beside his opponent. The weight difference between them was shown by the scales, which registered 124½ for Butch and 125 for Bandy.

Butch, with the smart of that first round right clip to the teeth in mind, did little but back away, duck and dodge for the first three or four rounds. He pedaled backward faster than a bicycle, and his efforts were rewarded by a few light blows from Bandy, who seemed to be enjoying the chase.

During the middle stages of the fight, Butch woke up and attempted to fight back; but he led from too long and his efforts were of little importance. It was the tenth and eleventh rounds that Butch made a more confident bid for the attention of the referee and tried to force the milling, but still meant success. Bandy's left hand and good blocking foiled most of George's efforts.

Butch needs more seasoning before opposing experienced men. He was too much of a baby in the task of giving Bandy weight and a beating.

Kramer Battles Murphy.

All of the bouts on the card were interesting, but the best was the welterweight in which Mike Kramer, a rival of Peewee Kainer as an amateur, met the veteran Jimmy Murphy. Kramer, who has been in the ring for some time, entered the ring in excellent condition, last night.

Not to fight Kramer off his feet from the beginning, but the heavy little sharp-shooter showed early too much cleverness and punch. After a few moments of early success, Murphy took a beating to the head and body for the entire round.

Twice during the battle Kramer's right hand shot to the Murphy who shook Jimmy heavily and there was a possibility that he might knock him out.

Murphy hit Kramer occasionally, but he was forced to fight all the way except when he turned away from the fight.

WHERE did you come from, baby dear? What in the world are you doing here? Did the Federal Board approve of you? And make arrangements for your debut?

Hush, little baby, don't you cry. Your Uncle will tend to you bye and bye. For Uncle Sam has a baby farm, Where you can cuddle in his strong arm.

You will not burden your pa and ma. For you'll be raised according to law. And soon grow lusty and strong and fat. The Board of Spinsters will see to that.

WHY NOT? Speaking of babies, see where Willie Potes of Hot Springs, Ky., recently became the proud father of quadruplets, which added to his four sets of twins makes a total of 12 in five years. How about a bonus for Willie?

However, Willie's offspring will not him an exemption of $4500 on his income tax if any.

Scullin Forwards Are Best Shooters

Local Cup Candidates Easily Lead League Rivals in Goal Scoring.

Records for the season show that the inside trio of the forward line of the Scullin football club, which will oppose the Todd Shipwrecks in the national championship here March 18, is the most effective working in the local circuit. "Dope" for the campaign shows that Schwarz, Brady and Brannigan have tallied 28 goals in the regular league battles this year.

Schwarz, who this year is playing a vastly improved game over last season, when he "came back" after a two-year layoff because of illness, is the high point getter for the campaign with 12. Cliff Brady has counted 15 and Luke Brannigan 7.

The inner trio of the Le Andre's eleven comes closest to equalling the record of the Scullin stars with a total of 20. McCaffery had counted nine times, Ballam six and Fitzgerald five. The Dunn-Max-Magist combination of the Her Millers has counted 18 times and Corrigan, 17 and O'Shea of the Screw Co. 17 times.

Goal scoring records of the players this season follow: Scullin—Schwarz, 12; Brady, 15; Brannigan, 7; Murphy, 2; Beck, 2; Nolan, 2; Zarschel, 2; Le Andre—McCaffery, 9; Ballam, 6; Donovan, 6; Fitzgerald, 5; Neumann, 2; Hand, 1; Cunningham, 1.

Ben Millers—Dunn, 9; McHenry, 6; Potes, 5; McLaughlin, 4; Marre, 4; Quinn, 1; Conday, 1; Riley, 1; Screw Co.—Wimer, 8; Corrigan, 10; Miller, 6; O'Shea, 4; Pisk, 1; Crook, 1; Miller, 1; Gockel, 1; Burke, 1; Oster, 1.

WEBSTER AND KIRKWOOD WIN IN COUNTY LEAGUE

The Webster High School basketball team won its tenth contest of the season yesterday by easily trimming Ferguson on the Army floor, 40-10. Charlie Reber refereed.

Webster took the lead at the start of the game and held a margin of 10 points at the end of the first half. During the second period Ferguson was unable to cage a field and scored only two points via the free throw route. Norman Stewart was the outstanding point getter of the game and in addition to his basket shooting played a very vital role in the victory of Webster, who has been ill of some fever for some weeks, will be in uniform next week and will greatly strengthen the scoring power of the team. Sene who has been on the sick list will be in shape to play against Clay City Friday.

The Webster girls won their eleventh straight game, humbling Ferguson 35-15. The players of Ferguson's Webster team was the feature in the other scheduled County League game. Kirkwood won from Riteour 22-10. Coach Tillman sent his second team to the floor at the start of the second half. Ferguson of Kirkwood with three field goals was the star.

and had Nelson bleeding and angry. "Shifty" springs weakened in the last two rounds, and Nelson scored a few times, but his own did he hurt Logan, who was tired from his own efforts.

The crowd did not agree at all with Referee Harry Sharpe's decision. The management again lost money, owing to the storm.

Rain May Force Rickey to Move Cardinal Camp

Knott-Holers Consider Trip to New Orleans for Two Games to Get a Workout.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 1.—Manager Rickey had not decided today whether practice games would be played against the New Orleans team of the Southern League in New Orleans, Saturday and Sunday. If the rains continue, it may be necessary to go to New Orleans to get a workout.

Leslie Mann, outfielder, reported yesterday. Gainer is not in nor has Stock arrived. Although Rickey is up today, an infielder named Glaser from Colorado reported. He paid his own way here for a trial. He is a short stop.

It would not be surprising to see Rickey pick up states and go to Houston for another town in Texas to finish this season's training.

Arthur Reinhardt, the Iowa University southpaw, who has been the Cardinals' property for the past three years, only 21 now, Reinhardt first reported to Rickey when the Cardinals trained out at Francis Field in the spring of 1931. Since that time he has played in the American Association, the Pacific Coast and Texas leagues. With him it is a question of "has he curve ball or has he not?"

Bill Barnes, another youthful pitcher and a mighty good looking one, too, celebrated his twenty-first birthday last Sunday. Rickey is much impressed by this husky chap. He has the build of a pitcher, being 5 feet 11 in height and weighing 150 pounds in action.

Jack Smith, in the little batting practice he had in camp, has looked in great form. He is very much overweight and Rickey was a problem before him in reducing the husky outfielder without weakening him. The Cardinal manager would like to see Jack retain all the strength of the extra poundage, but fears it will affect his speed.

Leslie Mann, who reported yesterday, will coach at Indiana University starting next fall.

There is no division between veterans and recruits at the training table. Every one sits where he pleases. Revell is at 7:20, with taps at 11. Those are the only rules. The result is that the Orange clan is a happy, harmonious family.

Hornshy, journeyman and Perdin still are missing.

JOHNNY LAYTON FAVORED TO RETAIN CUE TITLE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 1.—Johnny Layton, world's champion three-cushion billiard player, was today a strong favorite to retain his title in his match with Alfred de Oro here, after having increased his lead in the first two racks of the championship match to 28 in last night's play.

Layton now has a lead over his veteran rival of 28, and needs but six points to retain his title, while his rival must make 33.

Tee, Fairway—and Green

By Charles "Chick" Evans

"The Master Eye."

The old injunction to keep your eye on the ball has led to some scientific experiments. Now it comes forth that the player has a best eye and that the detail of fastening the optic on the ball should be a matter solely for his "master eye."

It is now determined that every player has one which serves him better than the other in the all-important act of keeping the eye on the ball.

An unintentional experiment made in England some time ago, during a team match by a member of a Cambridge University team, threw this subject into the field of discussion.

One of the players in question had been undergoing medical treatment and was handicapped closely at the time. In spite of this handicap he halved the match with his opponent and played fine golf at times.

One of the players in question had been undergoing medical treatment and was handicapped closely at the time. In spite of this handicap he halved the match with his opponent and played fine golf at times.

This thing interested me, and I have made some indoor experiments this winter to determine which was my "master eye."

I have concluded that it is my left eye. In every golf swing I think Vain's weightlifting machine might be used profitably in such experiments because if a player swings backward the line from his left eye to the ball is shorter than the other.

In any such inclination there is a tendency to shorten the line from the left eye to the ball. This applies to a right-handed golfer, of course. With a south paw the condition will reverse.

In the execution of the longer shots the ball is played so far away from the body that you get both eyes over the ball and allow the club to lie naturally, which, by the way, is one of the most important things in golf.

In cases where there is a marked discrepancy in the strength of the eyes the stronger must be most necessarily favored.

One of my great rules has always been to keep my eyes in such a position that I have always drawn from each eye would result at a point on top of the ball. I will change that rule from now on because I am convinced that one eye should do all the aiming of the shot.

In putting, the hardest shot of the game, I have always kept my eyes directly over the ball, using the point of my nose as a guide for the clubhead of my putter. Since putting requires a short stroke, it would be difficult to keep the eyes over the ball.

I might be able to do better with only one eye, and I might say, this is about the only thing I have not yet tried in my fruitless effort so far to learn how to putt.

Players who have glasses no doubt will be much interested in this phase of using the eyes. The whole subject of the application of sight to golf playing is an interesting one, and it is easily possible for it to lead to some unexpected new developments.

Training Camp Gossip

Rain Hampers Indians. By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., March 1.—Unless rain subsides at Dallas, Tex., Manager Ewing of the Cleveland Indians probably will call off the first exhibition game there Saturday, reports received here from the spring training camp indicated. The Indians are scheduled to meet Dallas Saturday and Sunday.

Toledo Players Start South. TOLEDO, O., March 1.—In charge of Roger Bresnahan, president of the National League, the Toledo baseball club of the American Association left here today for the training camp at Toledo, Tenn. Most of the delegation consisted of pitchers and catchers.

Cold Weather Stops Mackinnon. PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Cold weather is interfering with the spring practice of the Philadelphia Athletics at Eagle Pass, Tex. None of the players are permitted to go to the baseball park yesterday because of the low winds. All members of the team except Johnson and Hauser, first baseman, outfielder Malone and pitcher Rommel are in camp. Hauser and Rommel are held out by colds, recently obtained from Cleveland, and Malone are expected to join the team in a day or two.

Col. Hurton Said That the amount of the contract was so large that it would be necessary to submit it to Jacob Ruppert, the other partner owner of the club, and the directors before Ruth attaches his signature.

A conference between the club officials and Carl Mays, who also has been holding out, was scheduled for today.

Australasia Challenges. Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, March 1.—Australasia filed a challenge for the Davis Cup, emblematic of the world's team tennis championship, with the United States Lawn Tennis Association yesterday. The challenge came by cable and was signed by Thomas H. Hughes, secretary of the Australasia Lawn Tennis Association. This is the sixth challenge received for the 1932 contest, the others being British Isles, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France and Italy.

Fohl Will Strive To Develop Hurler To Help Veterans

Fifteen of 25 Pitchers on Roster Are Recruits—Roy Davis Pleases Fohl.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MOBILE, Ala., March 1.—Manager Lee Fohl's greatest task this spring in the building of a team that will be a pennant contender is in developing at least one pitcher from among the recruits who can help out the veterans. On the roster of the Browns are 25 hurlers—15 veterans and 10 recruits. Two of the pitchers have not yet reported here. They are Dave Danforth and Wayne Wright. The regulars are Shaver, Bayne, Vangilder, "Dixie" Davis and Kelp.

It is early as yet to make any predictions as to which of the new comers will be the best. However, within the next two weeks Fohl will be afforded the opportunity to judge his men. Games will be played just as soon as the regulars arrive on the scene, and on March 11 the Browns will begin a series of 21 exhibition games.

Fohl Likes Danforth. It is known that Fohl thinks very highly of Danforth, the left-hander, who last year was with Columbus. It can hardly be said that Danforth is a recruit, he having been up with the White Sox for several years. The same can be said concerning Wayne Wright. Both these pitchers have been thoroughly tried out in the strongest of minor league organizations, and both have made good records. The same cannot be said of any of the other youngsters now here trying to win a berth in fast company.

Since landing in this city Fohl has spoken in a most satisfied manner about the work of Roy Davis. Fohl stated that it is his opinion that Davis knows how to pitch, and that he will be given every opportunity to become a regular member of the staff. Davis was sought by the management of the Browns last summer, but he preferred to remain in the oil game at that time and pitch semi-pro ball on Saturdays and Sundays. Davis has the same pitching form as that of Carl Mays of the Yankees, using the underhand delivery.

Rain Curtails Practice. The athletes yesterday had only a short workout, a misty rain, again cutting short the practice. The infield was soggy and the boys romped around the outfield, took part in snappy bunting games and then hiked to the showers.

Last night all the players went to the wharf for the masked ball, the final session of the Mardi Gras festivities. Milton Stock departed this morning to report to the Cardinals at St. Louis.

LOW SCORES CONTINUE TO LEAD A. B. C. EVENT

By the Associated Press. TOLEDO, O., March 1.—Doubles and singles in the American Bowling Congress tournament started today with Toledo bowlers in action. There was a single exception, however, in the entry of W. O. Wott, La Crosse, Wis., who was placed on today's schedule at his own request.

Low scores in the five-man division continue, the highest to date being 268. Tonight is another three-squad night, this being made necessary by the heavy entry list.

Barrere Stops Brannigan.

JUAREZ, Chihuahua, Mexico, March 1.—Battling Barrere of New Orleans knocked out Pat Brannigan of Denver, Colo. here last night in the sixth round of a scheduled 15-round bout at 125 pounds.

NORTH CAROLINA TO PLAY MERCER IN BASKET FINAL

ATLANTA, Ga., March 1.—North Carolina and Mercer won their way into the final round of the Southern basketball tournament here last night. The Tar Heels defeated Alabama 19-15, while Mercer downed Georgia Tech, 28 to 14.

The final battle will be played to determine the winner and will be scheduled for the 1932 champion of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which jointly promoted the tournament. The title holder also is expected to represent the South in a proposed national intercollegiate tournament to be held soon at Indianapolis.

A few symptoms of this sort or another outbreak like that of the Moplahs in Malabar or another Amoyas or a breakaway from Gandhi by those who find his policy too cautious or the arrest of Gandhi himself by the Government—any of these factors or a combination of them might plunge India into a new period of anarchy.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

(One of a series of short funny stories by the celebrated American humorist which appear daily in the Post-Dispatch on this page.)

A SERVICE TO THE WHOLE LAND.

IN the early summer of 1918 three of us made a long trip by automobile to pay a visit to a colored regiment at the front in France. The results more than repaid us for the time and trouble. One of the main compensations was First Class Private Cooksey, who, because he had been an elevator attendant in a Harlem apartment house, gave his occupation in his enlistment blank as "indoor chauffeur." It was to First Class Private Cooksey that the Colonel of the regiment, seeing the expression on the others' faces when a misadventure from a German mortar fell near by on the day the command moved up to the front, and made a hole in the earth deep enough and wide enough and long enough to hide the average smokehouse in—it was, I repeat, to First Class Private Cooksey that the Colonel put this question:

"Cooksey, if one of those things drops right here alongside of us and goes off, are you going to stay by me?"

"Kurnel," stated Cooksey, with sincerity, "I ain't almin' to tell you no lie. If one of them things busts close to me I'll jest natchelly be obliged to go away from here. But, please, sah, don't you set me down as no deserter. Jest put it in de book as 'Absent without leave,' 'cause I'll be back jest ez soon ez I kin git my brakes to work."

"But what if the enemy suddenly appears in force, without any preliminary bombardment?" pressed the Colonel. "What do you think you and the rest of the boys will do then?"

"Kurnel," said Cooksey, earnestly, "we may not stick by you, but we'll shore render our service, anyway; we'll spread the news all over France 'at th' Germans is comin'!"

METROPOLITAN MOVIES

By GENE CARR

"Willie, this is a terrible report card from your school. Your marks in English are very low."
"I know, Ma. But you ought to hear me speak pig-Latin."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

A VILLAIN SHORTAGE

(Mexico now bans border drama movies on the ground that they libel the Mexicans.)

Time was that scenario writers, When filling a photo-play order For villains as base as they make 'em, would place Their scenes on the Mexican border, The cactus and chaparral thickets Were wonderful places to kill in And brim full of thrills were the Mexican hills, And every last man was a villain.

You know when a greaser came riding To the front on the flickering screen, That a town would be sacked and his gang would enact A tragic and blood-curdling scene. You know if you saw a mustang And a hat that went up to a point, That the bullets would fly and brave ranchers would die In the fight in the chuck-a-luck joint.

But now there is peace on the border; The greaser's no longer at bay; But teaching a class in Rattlesnake Pass For the Mexican Y. M. C. A. He carries no dagger or pistol, No more does he toy with the can. Abandoning strife, he is leading the life Of a proper and model young man.

And so the scenario writers, In search of a murderous lad, When a scene needs a gent who is never content Unless he is utterly bad, Must turn to the chunk or the red man. To play a real roughhousing part, The greaser's turned straight—which is well, we may state, But wholly destructive to art.
